

April 18: Scaffolding Collapse Injures Seven People

Scaffolding collapsed at a construction site where a building is being demolished to make way for a new public transit station. The seven injured include a worker, who was hit on the head, and a first responder. The injuries are serious but not life-threatening and include fractures, bumps and bruises. The cause of the collapse is under investigation.