

Dec. 8: Ammonia Leak Sends Two Workers to the Hospital

An ammonia leak at a nitrogen plant sent two workers to the hospital. The leak was quickly contained. The condition of the workers isn't known. The company said there were no reports of anyone else inside or outside of the plant being affected. The cause of the leak is still unknown, but OHS officials are investigating.