Driver Faces Criminal Charges in Flagger’s Death

A driver operating an SUV struck and killed a young flagger working in a construction zone in southern Saskatchewan. The RCMP charged the driver with criminal negligence causing death and dangerous operation of a motor vehicle causing death. Motorists are required to slow to 60 km/h when passing workers and equipment in construction zones [Keith Dunford, Oct. 23, 2012].