

Employer Fined $100,000 After Guarding Violation Results in Amputation

A worker's left hand was amputated when it became entangled in a conveyor system. His employer pleaded guilty to a guarding violation. The court fined it $100,000 [Crop Production Services (Canada) Inc., Govt. News Release, July 25, 2016].