

Fall Protection Violations Results in $1,600 Violation

A roofing company pleaded guilty to two OHS violations for failing to ensure that workers use a fall-arresting system when engaged in weatherproofing and that workers working more than three metres above the ground use guardrails. It was fined $1,600 [DM Roofing Ltd., Govt. News Release, March 13, 2015].