

Flu Quiz

BENEFITS

Employers have a duty to protect workers from getting sick at work from various illnesses and diseases, including the seasonal flu. One of the most important steps you can take to protect workers from getting the flu is to educate them on this infectious disease, including its symptoms and treatment and how it can be prevented.

HOW TO USE THE TOOL

Give this quiz to all staff members to test their knowledge of the seasonal flu. Use the quiz as a training tool to educate workers on the flu in general and in conjunction with training on your company's flu-related policies.
