

Incident at Construction Site Results in Safety Charges

An incident at a work site in Yellowknife resulted in serious injury to a worker. In response, the WSCC charged a company with failing to take all reasonable precautions to ensure the health and safety of persons on a worksite and to ensure adequate instruction of each worker in the safe performance of their duties [Dennis Tung, operating as YK Construction Management, Aug. 12, 2013].