May 26: Worker Seriously Injured in Propane Explosion

A worker was seriously injured in a propane explosion, which occurred in a mechanical shop at Stittco Energy’s facility where a worker was repairing a propane truck. The resulting fire was quickly extinguished, but levelled an out-building. The company is cooperating with investigators from the Office of the Fire Commissioner.