

Model Safe Work Procedure for Working Alone

OHS laws require employers to establish and implement safe work procedures for workers that work alone or in isolation. Here's a model form based on an actual example created by the BC Public Service Agency that you can adapt for your own circumstances.