Naloxone Hazard Incident Report

If you have a workplace naloxone program, you need to keep records of overdose incidents to document and review the effectiveness of your response efforts. Here's a template incident report form that you can require authorized staff to complete each time they administer naloxone at your workplace.

Workplace Naloxone Incident Report

| Authorized Staff Member: | Date: | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1. When did the overdose happen (list month, day, year, time)? | [ ] Don't know | | |
| 2. Where did the overdose happen? | [ ] Don't know | | |
| | Yes | No | Don't know |
| 3. Did somebody call 911? | | | |
| 4. Did first responders arrive? | | | |
| 5. Did somebody provide rescue breathing? | | | |
| 6. Did the patient survive? | | | |
| 7. How many doses of naloxone were administered? | | | |