

Notice of Discipline for Worker Safety Violation

Just having workplace health and safety policies doesn't help if nobody obeys them. To prevent injuries and OHS violations, you must use discipline to enforce your policies. Of course, matters of progressive discipline bring unions, employment laws, arbitrators and courts into play. That's why it's essential to keep clear records documenting your disciplinary actions. Here's a Model Notice to complete each time you discipline a worker for a workplace safety infraction.
