

Procedure for Regular Contact Checks of Workers Working Alone

Establish clear procedures for maintaining contact with workers who are alone or in isolation.

One of the most critical elements of meeting the OHS requirement to ensure effective communication with workers who work alone or in isolation in dangerous circumstances is to establish a procedure for regular contacts. Here's a template from WorkSafeBC that you can adapt to both establish and document your contact protocols.