

Property Management Company Fined $5,000 for Injury to Subcontractor

A subcontractor broke his foot when the fire escape platform he was standing on detached from the house, causing him to fall to the ground. A property management company pleaded guilty to failing to provide the necessary information to ensure the safety of a subcontractor and was fined $5,000 [Twello Property Management, Govt. News Release, Feb. 17, 2016].