

Return to Work Plan Questionnaire

BENEFITS

To get an injured or ill worker back on the job, the employer and worker must develop an appropriate return to work (RTW) plan. To do so, you'll need to make sure you have all the necessary information.

HOW TO USE THE TOOL

Use this Return to Work Plan Questionnaire when working with a worker on developing his/her RTW plan. The questionnaire provides direction on the type of information that's needed to develop an effective and appropriate plan, including information related to the worker's recovery, functional abilities and any accommodations required to remove barriers to return to work.
