

Sun Safety and UV Radiation in Canada

This infographic from Statistics Canada shows how much time Canadians spend in the sun on a typical summer day, the kinds of sun protection they use and the average zone levels of ultraviolet radiation across the country from June 1980 to August 1990. Download a PDF of the infographic below.