

Take Our 2-Question Survey & You Could Win a Kindle Fire

The OHS Insider aims to make safety professionals' jobs easier. Our goal is to keep you up to date on developments in OHS law across Canada, including new laws and key cases. We also strive to explain how to comply with the requirements in the OHS laws. We think we're hitting the mark—but the only way to know for sure is by asking you how we're doing.

So please take our short and simple two-question survey. It's your chance to tell us what safety compliance information you need the most and to rate the coverage of various topics on the OHS Insider. For example, are we covering subjects such as violence, discipline, workers' comp, C-45 too much' Not enough' Just right'

And to show our appreciation, just include your email address and you'll be entered in a drawing to win a Kindle Fire!

Thanks for your participation—and for helping us ensure that we give you the safety compliance information and tools you need!
