

Violating Respiratory Protection Order Costs Company $2,500

A furniture manufacturer was fined $2,500 for failing to comply with an Improvement Order issued on Jan. 8, 2012 that required it to ensure workers were provided with and were properly wearing respiratory protective equipment appropriate to the hazards present [Woodsmith Solid Wood Furniture Manufacturing, Govt. News Release, Nov. 27, 2012].