

What Safety Coordinators Make in Canada

Safety coordinators play a valuable and important role in ensuring that workplaces are healthy and safe. So are they paid accordingly'

We recently asked readers where they fell in the safety coordinator salary range. The results (in Canadian dollars):

In comparison, what are safety professionals in the US paid' The National Safety Council's Safety + Health magazine did a salary survey in 2011. Their respondents included members of executive management, directors, managers, supervisors, coordinators, trainers and specialists.

More of them said they earned between $70,000 and $79,999 (USD) than any other salary range, which was a slight increase from 2010, when most said they earned between $60,000 and $69,999 (USD).