

Wood Products Manufacturer Fined $42K+ for Worker's Machine Injury

A worker lost 2 fingers when the lumber splicing machine he was placing truss plates into unexpectedly started up. His employer was fined $42,252 after pleading guilty to failing to implement safe work procedures for operating the machine [All-Fab Building Components Inc., Oct. 5, 2017].