

Work-Related Asthma Infographic

Work-related asthma is the most common occupational respiratory disorder in industrialized countries. It creates a narrowing of the air passages that makes it difficult to breathe. Symptoms are typically worse on working days and improve when away from work.

Early and accurate diagnosis, plus changes in the workplace, can make a difference to the well-being of patients and their co-workers. (Source: CCOHS)