

Worker & Company Fined for Fall Protection Violations

An inspector from WorkSafeNB saw workers not using fall arrest equipment, such as safety lines, guard rails, ropes and harnesses, while working on an eight-storey building. As a result, a worker was fined $500 and the company was fined $3,000 for fall protection violations [G. B. Roofing and Guy Boudreau, June 22, 2015].