

Workplace Domestic Violence Checklist

BENEFITS

An employer's duty to protect workers from violence in the workplace includes domestic or family violence, which can spill over into and impact the workplace—including both the targeted workers and their co-workers. So it's important that you develop a program to prevent and address domestic violence in the workplace.

HOW TO USE THE TOOL

Use this checklist to develop a program for preventing and addressing domestic violence in your workplace. Adapt it for any specific domestic violence requirements in your jurisdiction's OHS laws.